

Wii Friend Codes and Xbox Live Gamertags

Even though I don't have an Xbox, I've been watching videos on YouTube for the Xbox version of "Harry Potter and the Half-Blood Prince". As I was watching some of the videos, I noticed a gamertag appear at 5:17. Do Wii Friend Codes/names/whatever appear during gameplay when a friend goes online with their Wii, like gamertags do for the Xbox? If so, do they appear during any Wii game, OR just during gameplay of games that have Nintendo WFC features? I think it would be really cool if they did, even though I don't have any codes in my address book at the moment.

Unfortunately, the Wii (or any Wii game, WFC or not) does not have anything like the gamertag feature like the Xbox 360.
