3DS Ambassador Program WORRIES!

AWESOMEAJ234 2 posts since
Aug 14, 2011
I am REALLY worried about the 3DS Ambassador Program. I know I was supposed to just sign into the Nintendo eShop before August 11, but I'm still worried. I have 2 questions.

1. Do I have to look in the News Section of the Nintendo eShop and look at the "3DS Ambassador Program" post? I just found out about the post too later, and I'm worried that if I didn't check it, I couldn't become an ambassador.

If the answer is that I don't need to look at the post, then answer this question.

2. Do I have to log into the Nintendo eShop DURING the 3DS Ambassador Program, between the announcement of the program and the end of August 11, or ANYTIME I HAVE EVER LOGGED ON.

Thank you for helping.

Tags: 3ds, eshop, ambassador

JACKANDZACK27 26 posts since you only had to log in once before august 12 to be eligible for the program. You didnt have to check the notice to register for the program. If your still worried there is a new notice in the e-shop that says later this week nintendo will start a web site where you can type in your 3ds code and cheek if it is registered for the ambassador program.

AWESOMEAJ234 2 posts since
Thanks for your help, man!

Yea I had the pretty much the same problem and I just found out you had to do it before August 11th not on that date hope I am right and both of us are in it.