Games for the blind?

BERTHELDEE 1 posts since Aug 18, 2011

My sister-in-law is blind, yet, like any other human beings, she looooves playing games. She plays hockey on the x-box and she plays bowling on the Wii (she actually beats me everytime!). She also plays the New Super Mario Bros with us, thanks to the bubbles.

I was wondering, is there any blind-friendly nintendo games available out there? Anyone has any idea for interesting games where you could rely on sound to move around rather than sight?

Nintendo keeps saying they want to make games accessible for everyone... Will they make at least some of their games more accessible for all the blind gamers out there? I mean, blind people love Nintendo too, you know! 😊

Any suggestion is more than welcomed!

Thx!

😊

Tags: sound, mod, accessible, accessible_games, games_for_the_blind, blind

DSIS 438 posts since May 8, 2010 1. Re: Games for the blind? Aug 18, 2011 2:33 PM

She could probably play Rhythm Heaven, I've played that with my eyes closed because it helps me. Hope this helps. 😊

NINTENMAN94 1,276 posts since Feb 9, 2011 2. Re: Games for the blind? Aug 19, 2011 11:24 PM
Games for the blind?

Along with DSI'S Rhythm Heaven suggestion, you could also try Electroplankton and Wii Fit Plus. Other than that, I can't think of many videogames for blind people. Sorry😢

DIVER24 423 posts since

Try finding games that deal with chance or timing.

JTPASTA 14 posts since

Hello I am very very very new at this, i signed up for club nintendo with my gmail. however i forgot the username/password and so i logged in with my yahoo. the problem is is that i don't like my yahoo it is slow and obsolete so my question is how do i change my yahoo if i can't sign in to my gmail's NINTENDO ACCOUNT to delete my registration? thank you.

Edited to remove personal information. Please do not post personal information on the tech support forums. Also, it may be best to repost your question by creating a new topic in the Club Nintendo boards. Hit "Start Discussion" on the right to create a topic.

Message was edited by: NOA_TECH_MIKA

LINJIAxUAN 1 posts since

OMG, is hard to play games I think.

JOEMOMMA22 28 posts since

Pretty much any game that only requires movement can work just as long as you help her. she would proboble like games like:
Games for the blind?

just dance

the rayman raving rabit series

some of the wii fit plus games

some of the fishing games (look for the rumble feature)

celebrity sports showdown

she could probably play baseball games based off sound (ex: the ball flying through the air)

active personal trainer

Well thats all the games that I have in my house that would probably be good for her. Hope you can find more games.

excersize and sports games should work as you dont need to see what they are doing most of the time as the Instructions are read out to you verbally in most excersize games and in some sports games.